

Alber Enterprise Center

Will your business be more productive and profitable if your employees are performing at the highest level and your processes are improved to peak performance? If so, you came to the right place. The Alber Enterprise Center of The Ohio State University is a resource and performance solution tool for businesses. If your organization could improve its business performance, ask us how we can design and help implement results-oriented talent management training and services customized to your unique business needs. Call our OSU center for many solutions with one destination - your business success.

Contact us if you answer YES to any of these questions:

- Can your leaders, managers or supervisors perform better?
- Do you want your employees to be more productive and engaged?
- Will Lean Six Sigma implementation save you time and money?
- Can you get new hires on board faster with an online employee orientation?
- Could you improve productivity more quickly with blended or online course options?
- Would you like a free training needs assessment, including eligibility assessment for potential training grant dollars?

"We have partnered with The Ohio State University Alber Enterprise Center for the past three years and because of their responsiveness will continue to work with them. The Center's staff ensures that they understand our needs and core objectives before suggesting customized development programs. Our group leaders found the content of the classes to be well-structured, relevant and useful to their work experiences."
